

Less Everything

About Less Everything: Less Everything's goal is to make "software that gets out of your way." Less Accounting, More Honey, and Less Projects are the start of the productivity and communications suite of products designed to take away the pain of accounting, time tracking and project management for small businesses and freelancers. They have a few more products yet to launch that will complete their vision of the "because nobody reads the documentation" productivity/office tools.
