

Sponsorship Packages

The first three editions of the Office 2.0 Conference were real-time experiments organized from start-to-finish in less than 2 months. In order to bring the event to the next level, we're giving ourselves a full year to organize the 2009 edition, while limiting the number of demo pods to 40, and removing the pod-less sponsorship package. In order to help early-stage companies participate in the event, sponsorship packages are tiered based on company revenue. All packages include one or more Global 500 guest passes. These passes can only be given to employees working for a Global 500 company and using the products and services of the sponsor. Furthermore, Global 500 guest passes can only be given to companies that are not yet represented in the event (Cf. full list of participating Global 500 companies).

Silver: $10,000 (for companies with yearly revenues of $20M or less)

- Demo pod
- Logo on website's home page
- Page on website
- Access to demo scheduling system
- Access to media database
- Two sponsor passes (including two mobile devices)
- One Global 500 guest pass (including one mobile devices)

Gold: $25,000 (for companies with yearly revenues of $20M to $200M)

- Demo pod
- Logo on website's home page
- Page on website

Sponsorship Packages

- Access to demo scheduling system
- Access to media database
- Three sponsor passes (including three mobile devices)
- Three Global 500 guest passes (including three mobile devices)

Platinum: $50,000 (for companies with yearly revenues of more than $200M)

- Demo pod
- Logo on website's home page
- Page on website
- Access to demo scheduling system
- Access to media database
- Five sponsor passes (including five mobile devices)
- Five Global 500 guest passes (including five mobile devices)

Early Signup

Sponsors signing up before December 31st will receive a 10% discount.